Senior Class of 2010

Weaver High School

415 County Rd.
Warfield, Connecticut

Dedication

The class of 2010 would like to dedicate this yearbook to the entire "Weaver High School Family", past and present, which includes students, teachers, administrators and support staff. Opened in 1920, Weaver High is scheduled to close in June of 2011. It has been, and will be synonymous with secondary education in the North end of Hartford. Weaver High has been the home of famous writers, athletes, artists, and countless others who went on to become productive members of society. Though it may have had a less than glamorous public image at times; those of us who went to school here or worked here will remember it fondly as a school where we all learned the subject matter, and learned about life as well. This is how the class of 2010 will remember Weaver High School, and we hope that you will too.

*Sincerely,
Class of 2010*

Friends in high school are forever young.
 Unchanged, they're where you always will belong.
 The crowd is never gone, the pleasure stays,
 The music of the moment always plays,
 The time remains a field of wistful grace
 To which you may return from anyplace.
 Of course, you may still know them later on
 When you are someone else and years have run;
 And you may love them dearly, and they you,
 But time must make their friendship something new.
 Meanwhile, flourishing within your heart
 There is a whole, of which you were a part:
 A group of friends, one in love and pain,
 In whom your longing comes alive again.

THE DREAM TEAM

During the indoor season the Weaver girls made history...They came, they saw, they conquered. With only seven girls, they brought home the CCC Championship Title, Class M Championship, and 2nd State Open Championship.

The Seniors

The Weaver girls track team took second place at the State Open.....What a great way to end the season!

Andre Agassi

OUTSTANDING ATHLETE

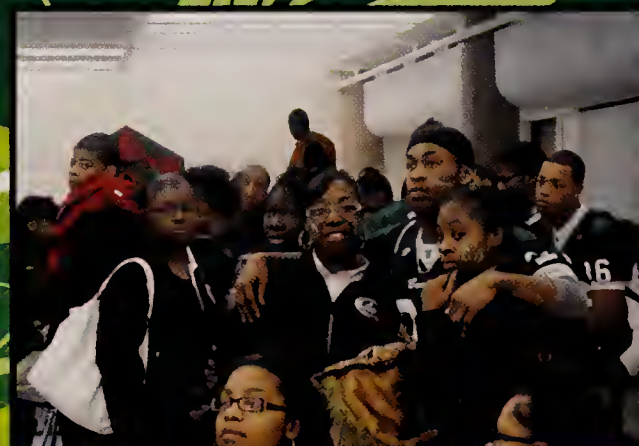

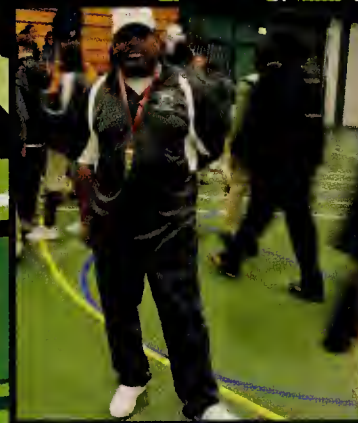

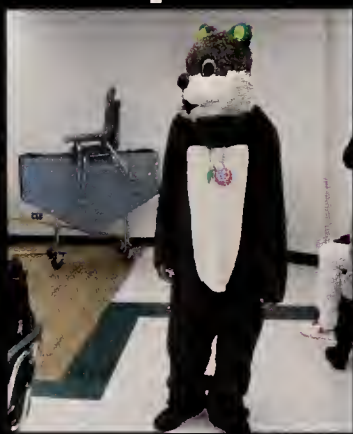

Nothing can substitute for just plain hard work. I had to put in the time to get back. And it was a grind. It meant training and sweating every day. But I was completely committed to working out to prove to myself that I still could do it.

Teachers Reflections

For the Class of 2010 Weaver High School has been a place where we were given the opportunity to further our education and escape from some of the troubles that presented themselves in the everyday life outside of school. Without the patience and understanding of the well-qualified teaching staff, we feel that we may not have been able make it over the hurdles that the world throws at us. The Yearbook Staff would like to use this section of the yearbook to allow some of those teachers to reflect on the time they have spent here at Weaver High School.

"Learning is finding out what you already know, Doing is demonstrating that you know it, Teaching is reminding others that they know it as well as you do. We are all learners, doers, and teachers" -Richard David Bach

Weaver High School was my first and last choice when I decided that I needed a change. I had taught at the Hartford Transitional Learning Academy for seventeen years, and I knew in my heart that Weaver would be a great fit for the next chapter of my teaching career. I have enjoyed immensely the camaraderie of my fellow co-workers throughout my eleven years here. More importantly my hope is that I have touched the lives of my students in a meaningful way because they have definitely left an indelible mark on me. I am saddened by the fact that the "Weaver High School", that I knew eleven years ago has undergone such a dramatic change. When the class of "2011" graduates it will be the end of "Weaver" as we know it. However, nothing can change all of the great memories that I have experienced working at the best high school in the city of Hartford.

*-Mrs. Fvonne Blanchard
Special Education 1989-2010*

I first entered Weaver 32 years ago. It was the end of September in 1978 and I was fresh out of college. I got a call to come to Weaver, they needed an English teacher. After a five minute interview the principal told me to, "Go on up to room 4085." Little did I know that I would still be here after all these years, and not because I couldn't have gone to different schools, but because Weaver is where I felt comfortable. This was home, this was my Weaver family. It really became my family when I married my long-time friend and fellow English teacher Audrey Garvey in 1999. I'd say that working these last eleven years with Mrs. Peczka, have been the best of my career.

It's hard to accept the fact that my school closing, that I have to leave it after all these years. I leave it with fond memories of a hard-working and caring staff; of wonderful students who gave it their all and of the really good times we had together inside and outside of the classroom. A high school is a place to learn. I learned that a great people and culture could be found in the north end of Hartford, in a place called Weaver High.

"The future of the world is in my classroom today, a future with the potential for good... Several future presidents are learning from me today; so are the great writers of the next decades, and so are all the so-called ordinary people who will make the decisions in a democracy. I must never forget these young people. Thank God I have a calling to the greatest profession of all! I must be vigilant every day, lest I lose one fragile opportunity to improve tomorrow." ~ Ivan Welton Fitzwater

Thank you-

Hopes and dreams realized-

Inspiration for life-

Remembering the first year-

Time to move on-

Yet there remain so many treasured memories-

Teacher-

Who I am-

Opening of windows to knowledge-

Learning for more

Education, the key to every door-

Always a part of me-

Remembering my students

So many lives that will remain an integral part of who I am-

I have been called to the teaching profession for the last thirty-two years, thirty-two years of being vigilant, of never losing one fragile opportunity to improve tomorrow. It has been an honor to have been able to teach at Weaver High School.

A proud employee of Weaver High School (Sept. 1978 - June 2010)

-Mrs. Audrey Deczka

There is something about Weaver High school that will forever edge in my mind. Weaver is not just a building. It is everything that happens in the building. It is the staff and students who have come and gone. It is all those with whom I have been acquainted over the years that I have served as a math teacher, an advisor of clubs, and as an administrator. They have touched my life immensely. I will cherish the memory of all the students with whom I have interacted for the last 21 years of my life. They have kept me young and grateful for being able to embrace them with discipline and love. Although I taught mathematics in my early years here, they have taught me patience. These students have been the greatest inspiration to me. When I reflect on the circumstances of their lives and how they have they been able to grow and develop with grace and charm, it gives me the impetus to get up every day and give them the best that I have to offer. The spirit of Weaver will always live in me. Please stay true to yourself as you leave these walls.

Dr. Lenford Lawes
Mathematics Teacher (1989- 1996)
Assistant Principal (2000- 2010)

The heyday of what was Weaver High is gone...

I am the last art teacher

In what was an outstanding art department,

I reflect on what will never happen again,

The creative spirit of Weaver slowly moving

Out over the floors and walls,

The minds, the shouts,

The surroundings

Are blending into the ones that came before...

It is disheartening to sit helplessly and observe a vibrant community of merging cultures come to an abrupt end.

The community of Weaver High School is a culturally rich environment where both staff and students are enlightened on a wide range of cultural knowledge, behaviors, customs, and histories. This mutual exchange helps prepare students for society and teachers to better prepare our future students. This community has produced outstanding contributors to society regionally, nationally and internationally, in sport, politics, the arts, and the professions.

I wish to thank all students for teaching me when I showed ignorance, for being patient with me while I learned, and for accepting my apologies when I erred. This school has helped me become a better educator, a better father, a better person and a better father. I will miss everything about Weaver High School.

Weaver High School 2004-2010

Weaver High School ... a place that most everyone can depend on each other if and when we wish. Its place where a student who is slunking one's class helps him pick winning football picks... It's a place where nothing is etched in stone and "it's not over until it's over"- there's always more chances and that's good ... or maybe not. It's a family home where many pass through and soon come back, but now, not for long.

Brothers and sisters, -children grew and grow up here and were /are parented in this place. Teachers learn to teach here and learn that teaching is a heavy weight when we are teaching our family and our friends' families. On some days more than few- we, and/ or the students are at our best and magical things happen and in spite of a lot of things, some of, a lot of, enough of, our work gets done a freshmen become freshmen again at least some. Others come back, or can at least for a while longer, in beautifully pressed uniforms, standing straight as adults. Still others bring back babies to show their family. They have survived Weaver or survived because of her she has been a place to be for lots of different agendas but was always there some for a meal, some for a friend some for a place to be when there was no other place but not for long. Some of the most "we out" screamers are back in as soon as their next school's semester permits proud of where they are but checking in with "home." Some of us (maybe just me...) have name /face problems, but not family /village ones if you went to Weaver, you went to Weaver. WEAVER and all that means and what others think it means. How can others know or even think what this school is when those of us who live here aren't sure? Perhaps Weaver is like Toni Morrison's Bottom "a real place", a place with richness that those who don't live here can't appreciate and that's too bad for us all.

I miss you already.

I wish to thank all of the tremendous students who worked on the 2010 yearbook.

To Phelicia Powell who was a great editor and got things rolling. Her soccer pages are great.

To Samarlie Stewart who took all the shoutouts and made sense of them.

To Rayshawn Robinsion who took care of all the baby pictures.

To Isaiah Jacobs who worked diligently as a photoghapher and editor.

To Monroe Brown for his skill as a sports photaghapher.

To Tiffany Skeetes for running the Superlative elections.

For Shapreace Fullwood and Alieja Dryden for jumping in late and giving us a boost to finish.

Finally, to Mr. Blake Wright who made this yearbook his pet project, seeing his vision through and working countless hours to make it so.

Mr. Paul Peczka

2010 Yearbook Advisor
